Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 03 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Wintery showers in the east, sunny in the west.

Today:
Frequent scattered showers will affect the east of Scotland throughout the day, these falling as snow on high ground. Dry with lengthy spells of sunshine in the west. Another cold day with moderate easterly winds, but light in the north.

Tonight:
Scattered wintery showers die out late evening across the northeast, but continue through the night in the southeast, a few feeding through the central belt. Elsewhere dry with clear spells.

Monday:
Cold and dry for most with a good deal of crisp winter sunshine. A few wintery showers in the south. Light winds.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Cold and mostly dry Tuesday and much of Wednesday, a few wintery showers in the east. Rain and snow spread southeast late Wednesday, clearing Thursday with wintery showers to follow.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.